

THE STATE ARCHIVE OF PARMA

The State Archives of Parma is the repository of documents and archives of public ownership in the city of Parma.

THE PROBLEM

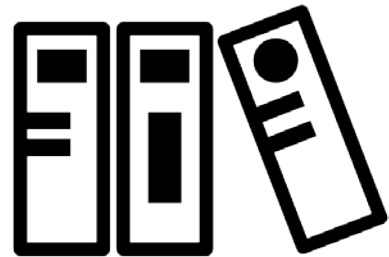

The historical and cultural heritage of the State Archives of Parma is very rich and various.

It is composed of over 12,000 drawings and maps, a collection of about 370 seals and punches, more than 11,000 parchments and almost 16,000 pieces of books, books and specialized magazines.

There are two rooms where people can read the wide range of historical and cultural books.

Due to the ever increasing number of materials to be archived, there was the need to rethink the filing solutions in order to avoid to waste precious space that could be used for high value activities for visitors.

KEY CHALLENGES:

- High value of the historical – cultural heritage
- Protection of the stored materials from dust and unauthorized access
- Not enough space available for filing

THE SOLUTION

With the aim to ensure better archiving conditions to the historical – cultural heritage of the State Archive of Parma, while exploiting the available vertical space of the building, the Management decided to install 62 mobile bases COMPATTA^{Light} DUPLEX.

DUPLEX system means that all available height can be cleverly utilized, thus eliminating any possible wasted space required in the installation of costly mezzanines.
